

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
August 7, 2018

“Choose Judson I.S.D.” The Theme of J.I.S.D. Convocation

Judson I.S.D. will be celebrating the 2018-19 school year with the inspirational message of “Choose Judson ISD.” We know that choice is a part of education and there are so many reasons to come to J.I.S.D. From a robust dual credit program that includes a nationally ranked high school (JECA) to a Career and Technology Education program that offers more than 30 professional recognized industry certifications allowing students to jump right into the workplace. And that’s just the start.

This Convocation is kicking off a brand new year with music and the inspirational performance of Drum Café. Convocation is set for Monday, August 13, 2018 at Freeman Coliseum. Master of Ceremonies will be Judson ISD product Trevor Taylor who is now a teacher at Wagner High School.

Along with a rousing performance by Drum Café, this convocation will include the participation of Judson ISD’s new Superintendent of Schools Dr. Jeanette Ball. She will bring the some 3,000 employees together to communicate her vision for the district and offer her encouragement to each staff member as they prepare to help and inspire each student each day.

What: Judson ISD Convocation

Where: Freeman Coliseum, 3201 E. Houston St. 78219

When: Monday, August 13, 2018, 9 a.m. to 12 noon

Contact: Steve Linscomb,
Director of Communications

Phone: 945-5410 (o), 260-0512 (c)

Email: slinscomb@judsonisd.org